Weakened Vitality IMPOVERISHED BLOOD.

Read what Ayer's Sarsaparilla did for the Rev. Z. P. Wilds, a well-known city missionary in New York and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds:

"I was for many years a sufferer from boils and other eruptions of a like nature, caused by the impoverished state of my blood. My appetite was poor and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by observation of the good it had done to others, I began taking it. My almost from the first dose; then my general health improved, and now it is excellent. I feel a hundred per cent. stronger, and I attribute this result to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised."

THUNDERSTORM AT KAUAI

RESIDENCE AT KAPAA STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

One of the Heaviest Downpours of Rain in Many Years—Rough Weather Prevents Landing of Freight.

Kapaa, March 20.
About 2 p. m. Sunday, the 14th inst., during a violent thunderstorm the residence of Mr. Jno. W. Neal, at Kapaa, was struck by lightning. With the exception of some shattered windows and a very badly frightened Chinese servant and other inmates no serious damage was done. The storm continued during the night and all day Monday with unabated fury, the downpour of rain being the heaviest known in this section for many years, causing considerable damage by wash-outs, etc.

Frank B. Smith, of Kealia, time-keeper in the office of the Makae Sugar Co., is the proud and happy father of a little mite of a girl. The tiny stranger put in an appearance at the unseasonable hour of 3 a. m. on the morning of Friday, the 19th inst. Net weight six and a quarter pounds. Mother and child doing well.

The steamer James Makee put in an appearance off port at Kapaa Tuesday morning, as usual, but owing to the troubled waters was unable to effect a landing and put in at Hanalei, the weather continuing boisterous she returned to Honolulu without discharging freight for Kealia or Kapaa.

Friday, March 19th, the Makee was able to make fast to her moorings at Kapaa and after discharging freight took on 2500 bags M. S. Co's sugar and 230 of rice, departing for Honolulu the same afternoon. The balance of sugar on hand, 3000 bags.

The weather is clear and warm, wind light northeast, shifting to the southward with falling barometer.

IN TRAINING.

He Meant to Marry a Widow and Was Merely Getting Ready.

A few weeks ago I was riding along a dim, rough road in Rowan county, Ky., when suddenly at the left of the road I heard a very loud explosion of angry words. I thought two men must be engaged in a rough and tumble fight and was not a little surprised on coming near to behold a tall, broad, shaggy whiskered old fellow striking with his fists a low scrub oak bush and accompanying each blow with an oath.

I drew rein and watched his singular conduct for some time without his being aware of my presence.

He would draw back his great maul of a fist and strike the bush a terrific blow, making the leaves fly like chaff below a fall.

"Now, confound ye," he would yell, "have ye got enough of it? Do you think you can do with that for a few hours? Helgh? Think ye kin? Helgh?"

Then he would throw his body backward, as if being assaulted and pushed sharply. He would duck his head as if being smitten by a heavy hand. He would fall to his knees, then rise, with affected difficulty, and assault the bush again with a fury and force that would send the leaves flying like a covey of startled birds. Finally he halted for a spell, looked about and saw me.

With a loud, coarse laugh, he at once left the bush and came toward me.

"Mister," he said as he walked up and laid a big, rugged hand on my horse's neck, "I guess you think I'm crazy, don't you?"

"Oh, no."

"Then ye think I'm jist a natural born, dod gasted fool?"

"Oh, no!"

"Waal, I don't see how you cud hep think in one or t'other. But I'll 'splain the thing. Noo week I'm ter git married to the Wilder's kins. She's bin married to six men, and while she's the best worker in the county she whipped all her men so often and so hard that they had to leave her. Now, I've allers been regarded as the best fighter in the county, but I'm gittin a little old and somewhat stiff. I've got to limber up, you see. I don't think she will have any show in a fight with me. But I'm er little too sharp ter take any chances with er woman that's whipped the stuff outen six husbands, so I'm gittin myself in trim to meet the worst. Ride on, stranger, er yer in a hurry, an I'll go back an tackle the bush a few more falls."

When I was 200 yards away, I could hear him yell. "Now, dod bust you, you think that will do fer today!"—New York Sunday World.

In the fall of 1893 a son of Mr. T. A. McFarland, a prominent merchant of Live Oak, Sutter County, Cal., was taken with a very heavy cold. The pains in his chest were so severe that he had spasms and was threatened with pneumonia. His father gave him several large doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which broke up the cough and cured him. Mr. McFarland says whenever his children have croup he invariably gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always cures them. He considers it the best cough remedy in the market. MESSRS. W. G. IRWIN & Co., LTD.

GENTLEMEN:—In reply to your inquiry as to how the Ideal Roof Paint you sold me lasted; I would say that I painted the roof of my house 12 months ago with your Red Ideal Roof Paint, and I find it is as fresh and bright in appearance today as when first applied; looking as well as others lately painted with other paints. I am more than satisfied.

J. G. ROTHWELL.

Have you a leaky gutter? If you have, make it perfectly clean and dry, apply a good coat of No. 3 P. and B. Paint over the leaky spots; then take a piece of stout Manila paper, or a piece of common cotton cloth, paint it well on both sides; lay it over the first coat, giving the whole a final coat, and there will be no more leak there. Or if the whole gutter is bad, make it clean and dry, and apply a paste of P. & B. Paint and Portland Cement.
